

Maine TREE Foundation

TIMBER RESEARCH & ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

Kelly L. French, CJ Herlihy, Jonathan P. LaBonte

Founded in 1989, Maine TREE educates and advocates for the sustainable use of the forest and the ecological, economic and social health of Maine's forest community.

Our Programs

Education

Forests of Maine Teachers' Tours

Maine educators engage in PLT activities, are immersed in one of Maine's forest communities, and develop methods to integrate Maine's forests into their curriculum

Forests for Maine's Future

EST. 2010

For 10 years, FMF published a Fresh from the Woods feature article about some aspect of the forest economy, science, biology, recreation, and stewardship.

CLP provides training and educational opportunities to Maine Loggers based on the following standards: safety, skill, knowledge, stewardship, professionalism and pride.

An award-winning environmental education program and curriculum designed for teachers, informal educators, parents, and community leaders.

Research

Since 1983, this 350-acre property in Arrowsic, Maine, has served as the site of long-term forest ecosystem research emphasizing 1) long-term changes in the forest's populations, and 2) understanding the effect of forest management on these populations.

Formerly known as the Forest Inventory Growth (FIG) program, FERN is a field-based, exploratory program connecting students, conservation organizations, and landowners to Maine forests.

Community

The Maine Tree Farm Program helps Maine's family woodland owners realize the full potential of their woods while providing forest products and other woodland benefits in a recognizably sustainable manner.

Keeping Maine's Forests is a collaboration of leaders from public, private, and nonprofit organizations with interest in the future of Maine's north woods. Here, folks come together around common goals and speak with one voice to state and federal elected officials.

Please reach out to find out more!

info@mainetree.org
207-621-9872

Austin Wilkins Award

The Austin Wilkins Forest Stewardship award is the foremost recognition for landowners and individuals who are outstanding examples of managing Maine's working forest in an exemplary & sustainable way.